

Dear female student,

As we approach another summer camp at Lake San Antonio, we need to address the question of and concern over "dress code" at camp. Our purpose in having a dress code is two fold. First, we desire for God to be honored by all we do, and that includes how we present ourselves to others. Scripture calls women to take great care in how they present themselves so that the word of God may not be dishonored (Titus 2:5). I Timothy 2:9-10 tells women to adorn themselves with proper clothing, dressing modestly and discreetly.

Secondly, we desire to follow the mandate of Scripture to "consider others as more important than ourselves" (Phil 2:4). The hope is that no one would draw unnecessary attention to themselves by their clothing, or lack thereof. If we are all of one-mind on this, there will be greater unity and will decrease the occurrence of embarrassing situations. We ask that even if you do not agree with these standards, that you respect them and follow them while at camp (Hebrews 13:17). In our many years of camp experience, taking the high road on dress code issues eliminates potentially unnecessary issues. Please feel free to ask if you have any questions.

At the Beach

Please wear a one piece suit or tankini that covers both stomach and cleavage. Board shorts must be worn over suit at all times. If you wear a bikini, it must be covered by a dark colored 1" thick strapped tank top (no camisoles) or t-shirt.

Please be aware of length of shorts, even when you bend over backside needs to be completely covered.

You may want to bring dark colored shirts for games as well since many of the games involve water.

Staff will provide t shirts and athletic shorts for those who are unable to meet dress code standards.

Thanks.

Shawn
